Do you need to report a movement event but don't have the PID?

Premises ID (PID) is key to traceability as it tracks the movement of animals from a location with a unique premises identification number.

Here's what to do:

- If the animal is from another dairy farm that has a DairyTrace account, you may be able to find the PID in the public premises search in the portal.
- If the PID is not searchable in the DairyTrace portal, you will have to contact the previous owner/operator to obtain the appropriate PID number required for reporting all move-in events.

How to use the public premises search in the DairyTrace portal:

- Go to public premises search, choose to search based on the account/farmer information or by the premise information.

Hint: Click on the 'i' for helpful tricks when using the search filters to find what you need.

- If the search finds the PID you need, click the green plus to add the PID to your address book.

Note: If the PID is already in your address book, you will see a green flag icon instead of the green plus.

A screenshot of a software dialog box titled "Give a description (optional)". It features a text input field labeled "Description" and two buttons at the bottom: "Save" and "Cancel".

- Enter a description of the PID to save it to your address book.

- The PID is now saved in your address book so you can complete event moves easily coming from this location.

Note: These PIDs from the public search are only visible to DairyTrace users.
